

How do we prepare for future societies?

The CBS Graduate:

- is independent in thinking and collaborative in action
- unites disciplinary expertise, context awareness, digital and artificial intelligence
- balances competitiveness with trustworthiness

The CBS Graduate in the Organization:

- creates more business, social and environmental benefit than cost in professional settings
- innovates organizations by managing joint learning, unlearning and relearning
- organizes experiments to foresee opportunity and risk

The CBS Graduate in Society:

- creates value from global connections for local communities
- creates economic wealth with environmental sustainability
- strengthens democratic principles through managerial practices